Course Description

This is a year long mentorship and training program devoted to the empowerment of each practitioner to claim their own authentic soul's gifts through a series of initiations, group process, multi-dimensional activations and skill building. This year-long process will support any one that has an inspiration to create a new model of helping which awakens the unity field in all of us. Practitioners will develop their skills and leadership, their healing gifts; they will learn new tools of soul-body partnership, the laws of co-creation in their own lives and their clients' lives. Participants will have practice assignments of guiding others and receiving sessions throughout the year. Based in the collective wisdom and skills of our Sustainable Love healing team, Ahara and Robin will align your training to meet the needs and growth of you and your group. Individuals will also receive a license as a Minister of Soul Alchemy™ under the spiritual ordination of the Center for Soulful Living. This year-long group training for practitioners is devoted to creating an authentic expression for not only personal growth but to help you to support clients to find their own soul's voice. Practitioners will learn deep self-knowledge, embodiment of love, and a wide variety of healing hands-on tools and receive multi-dimensional and body integration. The safe openhearted group supports hands on learning with each other and a provocative opportunity to take risks and grow. This course is specifically designed for anyone who seeks a deepening of self-knowledge, an empowerment of their own soul's gifts and wishes to integrate these gifts into their own style of service.

Robin Duda MS,MSW

Co-founder of Sustainable Love Training & Guidance Center Over the past 25 years, Robin has co-created a healing process called Soul Alchemy™. She has two masters from Hunter College, N.Y. She has been a performing artist in theater, dance and music. Robin's gifts for healing, psychic empathic awareness, and multidimensional awareness were dramatically anchored in 1990 by a near-death experience. This event radically altered her perception of being a "helper". As she connected with Source, she was shown that her Soul created all events in her life and the opportunity the Soul has to heal with the body and personality once it fully chooses Love of Self. Robin accesses a trans-dimensional aspect of herself called Rahim Gaia who has the gift of catalyzing awareness of the eternal soul's core issues currently impacting one's life. This part of Robin has been a primary teacher in the evolution of Joseph and Robin, their healing team, and their clients. Robin has integrated expressive arts in her healing processes because of her long time love of performance in music, dance and acting.
